For attorneys whose practices revolve around private equity clients in the oil and gas industry, 2019 was not an easy year by any measure. Private equity firms needed to reconcile their investments over the past several years with the realities of the current world and begin to explore some alternative options.

Advisers such as Michael De Voe Piazza rose to the occasion, guiding clients through a series of complex deals over the year and beyond.

Among those in 2019, Piazza led a Willkie team that advised Glendale Energy Capital in its $500 million joint venture platform with TPG Sixth Street Partners in June, Colony Capital Inc. and an affiliate in a drilling joint venture with California Resources Corp. to invest up to $500 million in oil and gas properties in July, and Pickering Energy Partners Inc. in a strategic $500 million joint venture with Henry Resources in September. He also advised Houston-based York Tactical Energy Fund in a $125 million joint venture in the DJ Basin with Bayswater Natural Resources in December.

Piazza advised on one of the largest upstream acquisitions by a private equity platform in 2019 in its representation of Kalnin investment vehicle BKV 's acquisition of Barnett Shale assets from Devon Energy. The acquisition includes over 320,000 gross acres and 4,200 producing wells, making BKV the largest natural gas producer in the Barnett Shale.

As co-head of Willkie's energy practice and a founding partner of the firm's Houston office, Piazza has played a key role in expanding the firm's energy platform in Houston. Among his regular clients are Riverstone Holdings LLC, Lime Rock Partners, Millennial Energy Partners, Juniper Capital Advisors LP, Carnelian Energy Capital Management LP, Denham Capital Management LP, Samson Resources II LLC and Wafra Inc.

Piazza joined Willkie in 2014 from Bracewell & Giuliani LLP at the formation of the Houston office. He currently co-heads the office with Bruce Herzog. He received his undergraduate degree from Princeton University and his law degree from Georgetown University.
