Civil Action No. 21-CV-8085

TEMPORARY RESTRAINING ORDER FREEZING ASSETS AND GRANTING OTHER RELIEF, AND ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE

Plaintiff Securities and Exchange Commission (the “Commission”) brings this ex parte motion for a Temporary Restraining Order Freezing Assets and Granting Other Relief, and an Order to Show Cause against Jose Luis Casero Sanchez (“Sanchez”), Jose Luis Casero Abellan (“Abellan”), and Maria Isabel Sanchez Gonzalez (“Gonzalez”) (collectively “Defendants”). The Commission seeks (i) to temporarily freeze Defendants’ United States assets, including two brokerage accounts and a digital assets account; (ii) to temporarily restrain Defendants from destroying, altering, or concealing evidence of any kind; (iii) authorization to conduct expedited discovery in connection with its request for a preliminary injunction; (iv) authorization to conduct alternative service by other means of all pleadings and papers related to the Motion, including the Complaint, Orders of the Court, and expedited discovery demands upon Defendants; (v) an order to Defendants to show cause, if any, why a preliminary injunction should not be entered extending this temporary relief pending a final adjudication on the merits.

The Court has considered the Complaint, the Commission's motion, the supporting memorandum, declarations and exhibits thereto, and all other evidence and argument presented in support of the Motion. Based on the foregoing documents, the Court finds that the Commission has made a proper showing, as required by Section 20(b) of the Securities Act and Section 21(d) and Section 21A of the Exchange Act, for the relief granted herein. Specifically, the Court finds that:

1. This Court has jurisdiction over the subject matter of this action and over Defendants, and venue properly lies in this District.
2. The Commission has demonstrated that unless restrained and enjoined by this Court, Defendants may dissipate, conceal, or transfer from the jurisdiction of this Court assets that could be subject to an order of disgorgement or an order to pay civil penalties in this action. An order freezing Defendants' United States assets is necessary to preserve the status quo and to protect this Court's ability to award relief in the form of disgorgement, prejudgment interest, and civil penalties.
3. The Commission has demonstrated that an order prohibiting Defendants from destroying, altering, or concealing records of any kind—including documents concerning the allegations in the Complaint or the assets, finances, or business operations of Defendants—is necessary to ensure compliance with the asset freeze imposed and to protect the integrity of this litigation.
4. Expedited discovery is appropriate to permit a fair and prompt preliminary injunction hearing.

5. Alternative service is appropriate to allow the Commission to expeditiously serve Defendants with this Order and any and all related pleadings and papers, including the Complaint, and to allow the Commission to conduct expedited discovery.

6. Good and sufficient reasons have been shown why the Court should issue a temporary restraining order without prior notice to Defendants. There is good cause to believe that providing notice of these proceedings may result in the dissipation of assets or the compromising of evidence. It is appropriate for the Court to issue this Temporary Restraining Order and Order to Show Cause ex parte so that prompt service on appropriate financial institutions can be made, thus preventing the dissipation of assets.
